

National Science Foundation

Senior Executive Service Vacancy

ANNOUNCEMENT NUMBER: S20030078-LTD

OPEN: 07/09/2003

CLOSE: 09/08/2003

POSITION VACANT: Division Director, Directorate for Computer and Information Science and Engineering (CISE)

LOCATION: Arlington, Virginia

SALARY RANGE: ES-1 to ES-4 (curr. $131,342 - $142,500) AREA OF CONSIDERATION: All Qualified Applicants
Announcement is for a two-to-three year limited term appointment. Position is also announced on a career basis in S20030078-C and on an Intergovernmental Personnel Act assignment basis in S20030078-IPA.

STATEMENT OF DUTIES: Advanced computing-information-communications infrastructure (also known as cyberinfrastructure) projects supported by NSF's Directorate for Computer and Information Science and Engineering (CISE) have major national and international policy implications because of the pivotal role they play in advancing the Nation's science and engineering agenda. They are often unique and complex projects. Both scientifically and administratively they represent significant management challenges for NSF. They operate at the cutting edge of science and technology. Research and education activities enabled by these projects include the full spectrum of NSF-supported activities.

The incumbent serves as one of the Foundation's principal spokespersons in the area of cyberinfrastructure and as a member of the CISE Directorate leadership team. He/she directs division activities, which provide access to, and support of, advanced cyberinfrastructure in support of the national science and engineering research and education community.

The incumbent provides strategic leadership in the development and implementation of support for advanced cyberinfrastructure to meet the needs of the academic science and engineering research and education community. Implements, in a divisional context, overall strategic planning and policy setting; determines cyberinfrastructure funding requirements and prepares and justifies budget estimates; defines and balances program needs, actively working with relevant NSF personnel and other stakeholders to ensure that necessary research and education investments are being made to advance national cyberinfrastructure capabilities; oversees the evaluation of proposals and recommendations for awards and declinations; oversees the management and oversight of a complex portfolio of cyberinfrastructure projects; develops and applies criteria for evaluating the performance of cyberinfrastructure projects supported; and represents NSF to relevant stakeholder groups. Fosters partnerships with other Divisions, Directorates, Federal agencies, science and engineering organizations, the academic community, and the international community.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIREMENTS

EXECUTIVE/MANAGERIAL

Essential

- 1. Leading Change. Demonstrated ability to develop and implement an organizational vision for cyberinfrastructure that integrates key national science and engineering goals, and that meets the advanced cyberinfrastructure needs of the academic science and engineering research and education community.
- 2. Leading People. Demonstrated ability to achieve organizational objectives by creatively managing and motivating staff. Includes the ability to promote quality through the effective use of performance standards and assessment. Includes leveraging diversity and other differences, promoting developmental opportunities, fostering commitment and team spirit, and constructively resolving conflicts.
- 3. Results-Driven Leadership. Demonstrated knowledge and ability in planning, prioritizing, and coordinating large, complex infrastructure projects. Includes the ability to provide project management oversight, to make timely and effective decisions, to produce results through strategic planning, the implementation and evaluation of programs and policies, and to balance complex and diverse program and project demands within available resources.

4. Business Acumen. Demonstrated ability to utilize human, financial, material, and information resources in a manner that instills public trust and accomplishes the organization's mission and to take advantage of new technologies to enhance the effectiveness of decision making. Includes demonstrated ability in recruiting and selecting staff, allocating financial resources, and managing budgetary processes.
5. Building Coalitions/Communication. Demonstrated ability to serve as a senior spokesperson for a major organization involved in the support of crosscutting and multidisciplinary cyberinfrastructure activities. Includes the ability to foster partnerships that support NSF's cyberinfrastructure plans, to coordinate organizational strategy and initiatives with other Federal organizations and academic and industrial organizations, both foreign and domestic, and to effectively communicate policy and strategic plans to the external community, including the public, the Congress, industry and scientific colleagues in other disciplines.

PROFESSIONAL/TECHNICAL

Essential

1. Ph.D. or equivalent professional experience or a combination of education and equivalent experience in computer and information sciences and engineering or a related computational science or engineering field.
2. Familiarity with Federal, academic and industrial research and infrastructure and initiatives focused on advanced computer-communications-information infrastructure.
3. Demonstrated knowledge and ability in planning, prioritizing, coordinating and managing large, complex infrastructure projects.
4. Skill in recognizing, developing and implementing approaches and programs which build on the expertise and knowledge of researchers and educators in several disciplines to develop solutions to important cross-cutting research and education problems.
5. Broad knowledge of the computer and communications industries and their underlying technology suppliers.
6. Demonstrated knowledge of relevant academic community and recognized professional standing in the science and engineering community as evidenced by publications and/or professional leadership and awards.
